

St. Paul's Epistle

DECEMBER 2019

The St. Paul's Sunday School has started a new curriculum study of the Baptismal Covenant which will last through this school year.

The students will study each of the promises of the covenant by connecting it to scripture and their lives for a four to five-week period.

They will then participate in a culminating service-learning project that connects back to that specific promise.

Stay tuned for more details as we start our first service-learning project late fall.
